Dear Families and Staff

I am very pleased to let you know that two members of our DET community have been recognised in the Queen's Birthday Honours List for their outstanding civic contribution.

Our CEO, David Boyle, has been awarded a CBE for services to Education. Not only has David led the successful development of Dunraven School and the DET but he has made, and continues to make, a significant personal and professional contribution to the development of education across the sector both within and beyond London. We are grateful for all he does in his role for the Trust and for his outstanding leadership, which this award recognises.

Former Governor of Dunraven School and current Member of DET, David Bryan, has also been honoured with a CBE for services to the Arts. As well as continuing to make a valuable contribution to our Trust, David is also Chair of the Board of Trustees Voluntary Arts, Chair of Battersea Arts Centre and Chair of Brixton House. We are fortunate to have David's experience and commitment as DET moves into its next phase of development.

I hope that you will join me in congratulating both David Boyle and David Bryan on their Honours, and in thanking them for all they have done and continue to do for the Trust.

Yours sincerely

Helen George
Chair, Dunraven Educational Trust
